

PILOT ON BOARD

The pilot boat approaches a freighter at sea to pick up a Sandy Hook Pilot.

Huge ships entering or leaving New York harbor are constantly in danger. Narrow channels, strong tidal currents, reefs and shoals must be contended with. Traffic comes from all directions. In an emergency there is frequently no time to make decisions.

Sandy Hook pilots, the men who guide the huge ships into and out of the harbor, are trained to take action instinctively.

How good are they? During the past five years they handled 123,000 ships with a rate of incident of only 89, 1,000th of one percent—88 percent of these minor.

The Sandy Hook pilots are available 24 hours a day, every day and night of the year. They observe no holidays and charge no overtime pay.

Training, prior to receiving a full-fledged branch pilot's license and the right to guide ships in and out of the harbor, is rigorous and long. It lasts at least 15 years.

The first eight years are spent on pilot boats and riding ships with licensed pilots. They must work their way up from the lowest rank, called "spare boy," to motorboat operator. At the same time they must pass a number of examinations qualifying them for licenses in both boating and communications.

The next seven years are spent in "on the job" training, during which time the trainee learns how to han-

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and fun. With the rest of Helen Help Us, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a rush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help Us, this newspaper.

YOU'RE JUST JEALOUS,

S PAT ANSWER

Dear Helen: Why is it boys can discuss other guys on the team or in the classroom, and say "cutting things," but nobody accuses them of being jealous — they're just analyzing, or something.

But if a girl says anything about another girl, and not that bad either, the guys quick say "You are just jealous!"

It's no wonder we have to stoop to being catty, because boys are too dense to catch on to cattiness. Like when Nan says, "I always did LOVE that formal on you, Cindy," a boy doesn't know Cindy is being chopped to pieces.

We can't come right out and say we don't like Cindy because she's got a big mouth, or Nan is a zonk (drip), or Betty is a hog-caller (boy-chaser). If you say any of these, the boys give you a raised eyebrow and call you green-eyes.

I think you should start an "equal opportunity" campaign for girls, Helen — Lu — Anne — Dear Lu: Good idea but males being males, and females being females forever feminine, "equal rights" will always be shot full of loopholes.

That old manly comeback, "You're just jealous!" makes me furious too, Lu-Anne, but if a boy treated you like another boy, you wouldn't like another boy, you wouldn't like it either.

Besides if you had total equality, look who would be getting "greetings" from the President. — H.

Dear Helen: I have been going with a boy for a year and I have a real good girl friend. She is a funny type girl. Around other girls, she's fine, but when she's around boys she acts stuck up and snobby. She doesn't want me going with this boy, and she thinks she has got us broken up.

My boy friend doesn't like her and so I told him I'd broken up with her. And I told HER I'd broken up with him.

I have got myself in the middle of a big mess. I've lied to both of them, and if either finds out

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It is highly probable that a large number of small children went to bed Thursday night under the impression that the American Revolution was won by a crack shot named Daniel Boone and his buddy, an Oxford-educated half-breed Cherokee named Mingo.

NBC's "Daniel Boone" took considerable dramatic license with a yarn about the Indian nations ready to unite at the urging of some underhanded British army officers to drive the settlers out of Kentucky.

This news was upsetting to Mingo, torn between his loyalty to "his people" and to his white brother, Daniel. He was imprisoned by the Indians for his own good, but happily there was a friendly squaw around to tip off Daniel about the plot and free Mingo. And together they foiled the scheme, the Redcoats retreated and presumably Washington was able to get ahead with the revolution.

"Daniel Boone" is not exactly a bad show, it's just a silly trite treatment. And any adult who voluntarily sits through an hour of such nonsense must really be trying to kill time.

"My Three Sons" on CBS is a situation comedy that has been around for so many successful seasons that one of the original sons outgrew his role and was married out of the show. And Thursday night the writers got around to sending star Fred MacMurray back to the scenes of the boyhood — the little town in which he grew up and the girl whose initials he carved on the porch post.

The former girl friend turned out to be a shrill nag with a surly husband, whining kids and an untidy house.

It was a good thing MacMurray was around Thursday night. He has an ingratiating way that even makes TV clichés seem amusing.

ICELAND POPPIES

Iceland poppies are perennials that will bloom next year from seeds sown this fall. Slender stems one to two feet long, bright 3-inch blooms of white, yellow, orange, pink, rose or rose-red, single and double forms make this flower a desirable addition to any garden.

Plant seeds in a lightly shaded place where soil is cool. Keep moist by watering with a fine spray as often as is needed. Seeds will sprout in 1 to 2 weeks. While seedlings can be transplanted when several inches high, plants that are left where they grew will bloom sooner and will tend to be sturdier.

Get her interested in the opposite sex, and your troubles may be over. I don't say it will be easy, but keep trying. — And stop lying! — H.

Dear Helen: The fella who signed himself "Not Hunting a Huntress" gave an accurate description of a too-large percentage of girls today. They are so anxious to be happy and popular and sexy at all costs, and to prove their popularity by having some guys — they don't much care who — that they practically smother the poor male who senses he's not being admired for himself. Just because his presence proves the girl is "with it."

I am in this problem group myself. I am a bewildered girl who sees all this and can't understand it — a huntress who doesn't even want the game, just the trophy. — A Sympathetic Huntress

Dear Helen: I agree with "Not Hunting a Huntress" that girls hang all over boys and are too aggressive sometimes. But look at it from our side. We're dependent on the boy to ask us out and repeat the invitation. We have to act friendly or he won't.

We want to be sure we have a boy to take us around, and one we won't lose to a "warmer" girl. So we act like we like them and then they stab us in the back by calling us "Huntresses."

We want security, a "steady." I'd like to see a boy just once who wasn't a "hunter." Why else do they suggest nice rides in the country and drive-in movies? I'm for acting friendly, but not that friendly! — Huntress Not Hunting a Hunter.

NEW YORK—(N E A)—Three-time Academy Award winner, Dorothy Jeakins, says she has "a tired face."

This, she claims, is the reason she looks so right for her part as Julie Andrews' New England mother-in-law in the United Artists release of James A. Michener's "Hawaii." But across the lunch table, Dorothy looked neither tired nor like a stoic New Englander.

This is her first acting role. She won her Oscars for the costumes she designed for "Joan of Arc," "Samson and Delilah" and "The Night of the Iguana." Of course, she also did the costumes for "Hawaii."

"It was fun playing the part," she said. "But when I saw the picture, I cried. I forgot I was looking at myself and only felt the loneliness of eternal woman standing by while one by one her family leaves home."

The wardrobe for Julie Andrews' role as the small town, 19th century New England girl who with her new husband goes to Hawaii as a missionary includes only 10 changes—one a night dress. This realistic underemphasis, honest to the role and the circumstances, is typical of the kind of thinking that has won Miss Jeakins her fame.

"I owe it to De Mille," she said. "I did the costumes for 'The Ten Commandments' and the original 'Greatest Story Ever Told,' and when you worked for De Mille, you became a perfectionist by necessity—unless you didn't need your job. It was the best training anyone could ever have. But it was far from sunshine and roses."

For her work on "Hawaii" she did worldwide research. She found much information on Hawaii from the Bishop Museum and the Bingham papers. She gained knowledge of the feather cloaks worn by the ruling Ili'i among the native Polynesians and changed the design of the intricate featherwork ever so slightly "so as not to offend the Polynesian gods."

Garry Moore Vs. Bonanza

By JOAN CROSBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Garry Moore is not too unhappy about two things that would upset the average man — a not-very-good critical reception to his first show on CBS-TV, and a time slot that places him opposite Bonanza.

"One of the reasons I am not totally unhappy to be opposite Bonanza is that I have never started a show well. I try, heaven knows," Garry said. "But with Durante, it took eight years. My old daytime show was panned, and deservedly so. I've got a Secret was canceled and then picked up again. The old nighttime show was panned."

"Now, nobody has made it opposite Bonanza, so there is really no point in tossing us off. Maybe we'll have a chance to find what we're doing."

After a year-long, around-the-world trip, Garry says there are two prime reasons for his return to weekly television.

"My wife wanted to get me out of the house because I was driving her crazy, and me, too. You've got to do something when you get up in the morning. I thought of other things, but I'm no good at basket weaving. This is what I know how to do, or, at least, what I am used to. The other reason I wanted to come back is because I love TV as a medium for communication. It's an exciting thing. When I returned to the country after a year, I watched steadily. There were marvelous things on, but everything had gone to film. TV once had a marvelous ability for having eyeball-to-eyeball and people-to-people meetings. Then everyone stopped talking to the audience. Everyone was playing a part and doing it well. But I want to talk directly to the audience."

Ron Hayes, who over the years has made a lot of pilots, has developed a philosophy about failure.

"I figure acting is a job, and it's a good one while it lasts. But I never count on a part or a series until it's absolutely set. That's the only way to keep your sanity. Otherwise, it becomes a manic thing, with you way up one day and down the next. I have no illusions. It this falls apart tomorrow, I'll be ready."

"This is The Rounders, a zany, modern, comedy western on ABC-TV in which Ron costars with Patrick Wayne, Chill Wills and Old Feller, a horse he calls 'a working actor with four legs."

It's Ron's second series. Previously he was in Everglades, a syndicated series filmed in Florida, which had such a low budget that Ron did his own stunt work. He once traipsed through the swampy land and was bitten by a water moccasin which sent him to the hospital for a week.

"That series was great experience. TV requires a tremendous amount of self-discipline. You have to narrow your mind down. You can take light moments on the set and relax, but when the time comes for work, you've got to narrow down."

Hayes, who manages to look both handsome and funny, with features that turn up in clownish angles has been a guest star on most of the major television series playing a villain.

On one of the jobs, Ron met the woman who became Mrs. Hayes, whose job was stand-in and occasional double for Pettie Roberts.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

CHINA'S TEEN-AGERS SEE RED: The young adults of China, organized by their Communist government to go on the rampage in recent weeks, repeat Red history. During the Russian revolution the Soviets prodded sons and daughters to spy on parents, report anything "anti-." Millions went to concentration camps in Siberia. Today's "Red Guard" of Chinese teen-agers has been put on the streets to terrorize older people, punish anyone disgusted with the regime's failures. But even grim revolution has its comic angles—the youthful "Red Guard" now demands a change in traffic lights so that green will stand for "stop" and the sacred Communist color red for "go." ... also, that military drill orders forbid "eyes right" in favor of "eyes left" as better communism.

WILL YOU, WON'T YOU WEAR LONG HAIR? A check back to this time last year shows that a judge in Kansas City ordered a boy to get a haircut so he could see him before he sentenced him. Some high school coaches refused to let long-hairs compete for school teams ... the dean of discipline of a high school in New York snipped off boys' superdangling locks as they entered school ... private school principals said "get a haircut or we'll give back your tuition." But a progressive school leader labeled long hair "a better kind of rebellion than marijuana." Now, it's 1966! Professional barbering circles inform YOUTH BEAT that long hair is definitely still "in" ... it'll be trimmed more this year, especially in the front ... and much more contoured or "razor-styled to fit the wearer's facial contour." Sources add that fathers are beginning to copy what is called the "Continental look" or "Prince Charlie cut," a la Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

HAIR STYLES FOR GIRLS: The fashion world forecasts it will continue long ... mostly straight ... usually flying free ... sometimes controlled—by bows, bandeaus, barrettes, grips and even tiaras. A few girls are wearing the new "bold urchin" look ... very short, cropped close to the head and fluffy ... about the way Mia Farrow looked when she got married, with hair as short as husband Frank Sinatra's.

HOLE-IN-THE-HEAD CRAZE SPREADS: Pierced ears for earrings, popular among younger teen-aged birds the past year, have now moved up the educational ladder to the college world. Shrieks are coming from dorms where college misses are not missing in the friendly land of piercing their roommates' ears. Doctors are recommended for this surgery. However, some jewelers punch lobes "for free" with the purchase of earrings.

THE BIG GUITAR EXPLOSION: Suddenly, about three years ago, guitar sales began to go up like space rockets. Owners of big music stores, used to selling two guitars a week, gulped as they began selling 200 a week. A million and a half guitars are sold a year most of them to you. Your keenness to own a musical instrument, easy to buy and play, created guitar history. Guitars also are adaptable for rock 'n' roll, pop and country music. This has made music stores happy but they report you're sharp shoppers—you know the catalogues inside and out—the prices—the merchandise—whether in steel or in nylon. Tip: If you join this shopping spree go to a reputable music store and pay for quality rather than take a chance.

Hurricane's Energy

Much of a hurricane's tremendous energy is released within a few miles of the storm's calm eye according to scientists. In a single second, a hurricane discharges more power than several atomic bombs in an hour, it expends more energy than 50 years' production of electricity in the United States, and in a day, can lift two billion tons of water from the ocean and hurl them back as torrential rain.

muu are hand-blocked just as they were in the missionary days.

"I love to delve into the past," Miss Jeakins admits. On a Guggenheim scholarship which she received in 1962, she went to Tokyo to live as a student and learn Noh theater and costume.

"I have worked with wonderful people and in many countries," said the California-born designer. "I even learned not to be upset by the Hong Kong slums. But New York's Broadway area scares me. You see every form of human degradation within a few blocks. It's a kind of hell."

Miss Jeakins, whose husband died in World War II, reared her two sons by working at the designing career which has made her famous. So she has been in the field for a long time.

What are her thoughts on the current mod look, mini-skirts, nailheads and chain mail?

"People aren't wearing clothes any more," she said. "They're wearing costumes."

"As fashion, these clothes can't be taken seriously. But the trend should be studied thoughtfully. When you realize what's happening, it causes anxiety. Boys and girls are moving closer and closer to being look-alikes."

"There's a sexual confusion that isn't healthy and it's outwardly manifested when couples stroll arm in arm in pants suits and long hair. You can't tell which is John and which is Jane until you're introduced."

As for the tiny skirts and pop art designs, Dorothy maintains we are a nation of sheep and 95 per cent of the women are stone blind when they stand before a mirror. "That's why you can sell them anything."

To be really chic, she believes one should study the current trend and then do something entirely different. But to do this successfully, she admits, you have to have fashion know-how. "And it takes dough."

Stardust didn't get in Dorothy's eyes after her first job as an actress. "That was just a fluke," she said. "I'll stay with costume design. I love doing it."

And her costumes, at least, know their place. They're on the silver screen and not on the city streets.

Costume designer, Dorothy Jeakins, as Julie Andrews' New England mother-in-law, the role she plays in the movie, "Hawaii."

Tempting Fate

A DREAM OF KINGS. By Harry Mark Petrakis. McKay $4.50

In a neighborhood of Greek immigrants in Chicago there is a tempter of fate named Matsoukas. He is a lusty, exuberant man who always seems able to turn misfortune to his own ends.

Matsoukas runs what he calls a "counseling service" for his fellow Greeks. That means he lives by his wits, and business is bad. Sometimes he dreams up a fancy deal—as when he tries to sell a deserted restaurant to a prospective buyer, and swamps the place with a lot of fake customers—only to have the scheme backfire.

So he spends a lot of his time trying to get out of debt the hard way—betting on the horses and playing poker. He also finds amatory diversions in the charms of the widow Anthoula, who runs the bakery next door.

Matsoukas enjoys life—including his wife, fruit and cheese—but there is a great tragic pain under his exuberance. His small son Stavros is desperately ill. Matsoukas is obsessed with the notion that if he could only take the boy to Greece—the life-giving sun in that fair land would effect an immediate cure.

For the sake of Stavros, he tempts fate once too often, and tragedy closes in with all the impact of an ancient Greek drama.

The author has a zestful, forceful style and a strong sense of imagery. This is an unusual novel, and a good one.

CUTTING CUES

It is not difficult to cut wall-board, say home-improvement specialists at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. Straight cuts can easily be made by putting the board face up, scoring it with a sharp knife, and then sawing it. For openings for switchboxes and similar irregular cutouts, a key-hole saw should be used.

Sun.-Mon. at Saenger

Audi Murphy, gun in hand, will take no argument from co-star Michael Dante in this scene from the new Columbia Pictures release in Technicolor and Techniscope, "Arizona Raiders." Also starred in the outdoor action drama are Ben Cooper, Buster Crabbe and Gloria Talbott.

TUES-WED SAENGER

After capturing Laurence Harvey and tying him to a tree, Paul Newman, as a Mexican bandit, steals his wallet in this scene from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Outrage." The powerful and controversial drama also stars Claire Bloom, Edward G. Robinson and William Shatner. Martin Ritt directed.

each crumb

... is precious but who among us needs the whole loaf?
Bread is vital but perhaps we should NOT live only to eat.
We are invited to break the bread as Jesus broke it and the Great Baker stored the earth with plenty for all. Woe be it to the selfish hand who holds the knife and cuts the slices thin. We are told to beware of him who withholds corn, for the people shall curse him. Our body is of the earth and must be fed from the earth.
But the soul is of Heaven and must be fed with Heavenly bread. Then let us worship in church this week and pray to God to, "Give us this day our daily bread."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Seek Ye First The Kingdom of God
And His Righteousness;
And All These Things Shall Be Added Unto You.

You Can Do This Best Through Regular Worship At Church. Our Ministers and These Sponsoring Firms Urge You To Attend Your Church Regularly.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Tall Tales Take Small

Minds Off Big Ouch

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When I was six years old I was already a dentist and had a little office out West. And do you know who my best patient was? Buffalo Bill. He and I were good friends. We used to go hunting together.

One day when I was filling a tooth for BB (I used to call him BB for short), the telephone rang and the voice said: "Hiss, hello, hiss. I've got a toothache, hiss, and I want you to fix it, hiss."

I knew who it was at once. I could tell by the hisses. It was a snake. So I said, "I'm sorry but I don't take care of snakes' teeth." When he heard that the snake got mad and said: "Hiss, I'm coming up to get you, Doc, hiss."

I hung up the phone and told BB what the snake said and he said to me: "Don't worry, Herbie. BB called me Herbie. If that snake comes up here I'll take care of him." But he asked the door attendant to be sure the snake couldn't get in.

Pretty soon we heard the door open, then a hissing noise in the hall and then do you know what happened? That snake came crawling through the little door, over the waiting room, which we forgot to close.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Safety Play Insures Slam

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

South rises with dummy's queen of spades at trick one but East covers with the king and South wins with the ace. The simple play at this point is to lay down the ace of trumps. If the king drops South can claim all the tricks. If it doesn't, South will discard his losing spade on one of dummy's high clubs.

The trouble with this line of play is that South will lose his contract if West shows out on that first trump lead.

South has an alternate line of play at his disposal that will guard against that bad trump break. He starts by cashing two high clubs in order to get his spade discard. Then he leads a trump from dummy. If East follows with the deuce, South simply plays low from his own hand. If West wins with the king or jack, South will pick up the last trump later on. If West shows out, South will cash his ace of trumps and concede one trick.

If East fails to follow to that trump lead, South takes his ace and leads a second trump toward dummy.

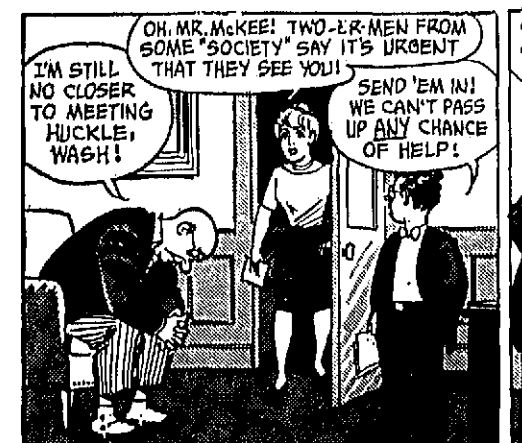

This constitutes a perfect safety play in the trump suit because it guards against the loss of two trump tricks irrespective of how the trumps divide.

It does lose the contract for South if West holds the singleton king or jack of trumps and East is void of diamonds or against 8-0 or 7-1 club breaks, but the chance of one of these bad breaks is much less than the chance of finding East with all three trumps so the trump safety play is preferable.

Ex-Yankee Helps Dodgers Extend Lead

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It wasn't so many years ago that the New York Yankees made an almost annual excursion into the player market around Sept. 1 for some pennant insurance.

The Yankees are buried in the American League cellar this year, but they're still doing business at the same old stand and the Los Angeles Dodgers certainly are glad.

New York wasn't shopping this year, but selling. It was two weeks ago today that the Dodgers purchased veteran utility man Dick Schofield from the Yankees. Los Angeles was in second place, one half game behind when the deal was made. The Dodgers are first, 2½ games in front today and Schofield is a major reason.

The speedy infielder stroked four hits, drove in three runs and scored three as Los Angeles strengthened its grip on the National League lead with a 4-0, 4-2 sweep over Chicago Friday.

Pittsburgh beat Atlanta 3-0 on Bob Veale's four-hitter, but lost a half game to the Dodgers despite the victory.

His four hits Friday gave Schofield 12-for-42 as a Dodger, a .286 pace that is a fat 54 points higher than his lifetime major league average.

In other National League games Friday, Cincinnati blanked the New York Mets 7-0 and Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 5-4 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Boston topped New York 2-1, Minnesota trounced Detroit 12-4, Kansas City shut out Cleveland 2-0, Washington nipped Chicago 5-4 and California blanked Baltimore 2-0.

"I know I can't play in the Series," Schofield said, "but I hope I can help them enough in the next nine games to get them into the Series."

Schofield certainly did his part against the Cubs. In the first game he singled twice, driving in one run and scoring twice as Don Drysdale pitched an eight-hitter.

In the nightcap, he drove in the first two Dodger runs with singles and then was hit by a pitch in the ninth inning just before John Roseboro walloped a tie-breaking two-run homer.

Veale won his 15th game, limiting the Braves to four hits. The tall left-hander struck out 12.

The Braves played without Joe Torre and Felipe Alou has been out of action since last Sunday with an injured left hand.

The Reds scored six runs in the first inning against the Mets, and it was more than enough for Jim Maloney, who won his 15th. Maloney pitched a five-hitter and struck out 13. Vada Pinson homered for Cincinnati.

Tony Taylor's bases-loaded single in the 12th inning gave the Phillies their victory over St. Louis. Catcher Jim Schaffer drove in four runs for Philadelphia and pitcher Larry Jaster homered for the Cards.

Bobcats Rally Twice in Final Moments to Smack Bucks

Hope Star Sports writer

The Hope Bobcats put together a pair of back-to-back touchdowns in the last six minutes of play to manage an important 4-A triumph over the Smackover Buckaroos last night at Smackover.

The balanced Bobcat offensive allowed the Hope boys to come from behind twice during the contest which went nip and tuck all the way.

Having led at the half 7 to 6, the Cats found themselves down by five points 12-7, midway in the final quarter after a spectacular 50-yard pass play that scored for the Bucks.

The Bobcats took the ball on first and 10 at the Buck 41 following a 31 yard kickoff return by Dan Turner. From there the Cats moved to paydirt in ten plays with Turner carrying it in from the two.

Jerry Don Still recovered a Smackover fumble on the next kickoff to give Hope possession on the Buck 26. Six plays later Dennis Turner plowed over from the five yard line to put the icing on the cake for Hope.

Starting with the ball at their own 35 after the opening kickoff the Bobcats were unable to scratch for a yard through the stubborn Buck defense. On a fourth down end Freddie Easterling trying to punt, was swamped by the Bucks and dropped back at the Hope 26, unable to get off the punt.

In six plays the home team moved it in for the first touchdown of the night. QB Mike Holloway did the honors taking it across from the one, but he was unsuccessful on his kick for the extra point. Still Smackover led, 6-0, with 7:35 remaining in the first quarter of play.

The Bobcats took over on their own 25 after a quick punt exchange. From there QB Buzz Andrews began to direct the Bobcat assault by utilizing the entire Hope backfield. The Bobcats chopped off the 75 yards to score in 12 big plays from scrimmage.

Andrews, a junior, picked the Buck defense apart as he mixed up plays and called the shots with the poise of a veteran signal caller.

The Cats hit Smackover hard from every position on the particular drive. Turner carried four times for jaunts of 16-22 and 2 again. Wingback Stan Parris took the call twice for gainers of 9 and 11 yards while Easterling penetrated for runs of 5 and 11 yards. Turner went in for the score.

End Luther Shaw kicked the extra point as the Bobcats led 7-6 with just over 10 minutes remaining in the half.

Hope threatened again just before the end of the half only to have the drive stopped within the Buckaroo five by an intercepted pass.

The score stood at 7-6 throughout the third period and into the final stanza, before the Buckaroos went to the air.

QB Holloway hit halfback Dennis Biggers on a 50 yard pass for six points. Holloway failed to kick the extra point. Easterling did the blocking honors but the Bucks led 12-7 with 9:3 left in the contest.

Danny Turner took the Smackover kickoff at the Hope 9 and scampered through masses of Bucks back to the Bobcat 44. The Bucks drew a major penalty of 15 for unnecessary roughness and from that point the Cats had a first in 10 on the Smackover 41.

In 10 plays the 'Melon-Men' hit the payoff with Turner carrying the final two yards. Shaw kicked but it hit the goal post and deflected wide to the right. The Bobcats were in front again and this time 13-12. There was still 6:28 showing on the clock.

Hope's kickoff was returned nine yards before the receiving Buck lost control of the ball and still recovered. Heroic it was. He carried 20 yards to the Buck 11 before being stopped.

The Cats were penalized 15 on the next play but retained possession at the home team's 26 yard stripe.

Six downs later the Bobcats made it across again for six more points. This time it was Dennis Turner carrying for five. Shaw's kick was off to the left but Hope was out in front for good, 19-12.

In individual rushing Danny Turner led both teams with a smashing 98 yards on a total of 31 carries. Parris made 10 trips for 58; Andrews 10 for 42 and Easterling seven for 42 as Dennis Turner got 3 for 7 and Mike Westbrook 1-2.

OFFICIAL FOOTBALL

By Coach Dave Nelson

Jon Brittenum of Arkansas attempts a backward pass on his own five yard line to Harry Jones. During the flight of the ball Barney Giles of Texas bats it so it goes out of bounds behind the Arkansas end line.

- The official should
- 1 Award Texas a safety.
 - 2 Declare a touchback for Arkansas
 - 3 Penalize Texas 15 yards to the Arkansas 20-yard line for intentionally batting a ball in flight out of the field of play

Harry Jones

When a pass is in flight and is eligible to be caught by any player in any direction. When a ball is caught by a player behind a goal line it belongs to the team which caught it. Rules 7-2-1, 8-1-1, 9-1-1.

SAFE OR OUT? Baltimore's Russ Snyder appears to be safe, his left foot on the plate and leg out of reach of the catcher's mitt. But the catcher made the tag with his other hand and Snyder was called out.

Best Signal Caller Is Disputed

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Purdue's Bob Griese may very well be the best quarterback in the Midwest but two sophomore signal callers could steal the show from him when the Boilermakers face Notre Dame Saturday.

The Irish will use Terry Hanratty and Coley O'Brien to call the plays and both Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf and Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame's head man, think the pair will spell trouble for Griese and the Boilermakers.

Parseghian's offense which traveled almost exclusively along the ground last season, is expected to open up this year. The Irish still have hard-running Larry Conjar and Nick Eddy in the backfield but Parseghian is expected to let his sophs throw the ball just the same.

"People won't be able to jam us and cram us," the coach says. "We'll be able to throw the ball and they will have to scatter whenever they think it's coming. That will give Conjar and Eddy more running room and that's all we want."

All Mollenkopf wants is a repeat of last year's 25-21 Purdue victory in which Griese completed an amazing 19 of 22 passes including 13 in a row over one stretch. It won't be easy. Notre Dame's weak chink, if the eighth-ranked Irish have one, could be an all-rounder defensive backfield. It could mean a windfall for Griese, who directed No. 7-rated Purdue to a 42-3 rout of Ohio last week.

The game, only one matching two ranked teams this week, will be televised nationally by ABC.

Top-ranked Michigan State faces Penn State Saturday and UCLA, ranked No. 2, is at Syracuse. Alabama, the defending national champion, opens its season against Louisiana Tech Saturday night. The Crimson Tide is No. 3 in The Associated Press Top Ten.

Michigan State, with huge Bubba Smith anchoring the defense and Clint Jones and Bob Apisa handling the running chores, got off to 28-10 victory over North Carolina State last week.

UCLA bombed Pittsburgh 57-14 in its opener and Syracuse will have to find a way to control quarterback Gary Beban if the Orangemen hope to win. Floyd Little handles the brunt of Syracuse's running game.

Nebraska, ranked fourth following a 14-10 victory over Texas Christian last week, faces Utah State Saturday. Fifth-ranked Southern California, 10-6 victor over Texas a week ago, takes on Wisconsin. Arkansas, which beat Oklahoma State 14-10 and is rated sixth, meets Tulsa.

Michigan and Baylor are ranked ninth and 10th. The Wolverines, who crushed Oregon State 41-0 in their opener, face California and Baylor, which beat Syracuse 39-12 two weeks ago, takes on Colorado.

GOAT HAUL
NEW YORK (AP) — Accompanied by six goats, Father Joannas Thalhuth, rector of Dharamam College in Bangalore, India, flew back to that country to start up a herd among neighboring poor families.

He bought the six animals in North Prairie, Wis., pointing out that a single American-bred goat can yield 1,200 to 1,600 pounds of milk a year, compared to 100 pounds from an Indian cow. He chose only nannies that were on the verge of having kids, and the expected offspring could travel without paying air fare.

The Education of a Quarterback

By DAVE BURGIN

OXFORD, OHIO—(NEA)—Big Brother Tom just wanted to make certain Little Brother Bruce knew how a Matte plays this game of football.

So Tom decided that he and Bruce would take a little fishing trip to Canada in the summer.

"Funny way to fish," recalls Bruce, chuckling. "Tom broke out the football the first day. Ever try to catch trout with a football?"

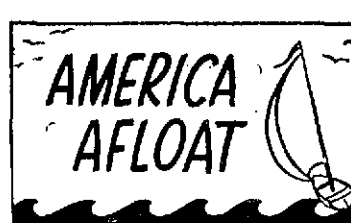

Two summers ago Tom wasn't even subtle about it. He simply told Bruce to pack his bags and took him along to Westminster, Md., to the Baltimore Colts training camp.

"When we got there," Bruce says, "Tom introduced me to Johnny Unitas and said, 'Here, John, teach this guy how to throw a football.'"

And as for the ball carrying part of being a quarterback, Bruce Matte, brother of a professional half back, is well-schooled there, too.

These little trips and off-season instruction sessions couldn't please Miami University football coach Bo Schembechler more, because in Bruce Matte, Schembechler has a quarterback of the type National and American Football League scouts call "a pro prospect."

"I think Tom took me fishing because he didn't trust me, the link," Bruce said. "He probably figured I wouldn't

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — (NEA) — "This new diving rig is so good," Bill Prentiss told us. "That even a bunch of blubber-built landlubbers like you guys can learn in half an hour."

He was giving some of us a poolside lesson in the new style for sinking without drowning. You're supposed to do it with a gadget that looks like a lawnmower motor gone to sea in an innertube. Johnson calls it an air buoy, and the mechanized octopus has two 25-foot tubes with face masks on each end.

Pull the starting cord, Prentiss demonstrated, and compressors start up that let you swim straight down the length of the hose, and stay under nearly an hour before surfacing to refuel it.

If you can't line up a mermaid for the other hose, you can take along a friend. The face masks operate independently, and the Air Buoy sits in a boat or floats along like a big bagel behind the divers. Enough air is pumped down to keep both masks free from fogging and force out any keep sharp over the summer."

Bruce kept sharp enough to make Miami's annual venture into Big Ten football a successful one. His passing, running and clever quarterbacking helped the Ohio Miami to its 20-10 first game upset of Indiana.

Will that hold off brother Tom for awhile?

"No, he keeps the pressure on. He's got subtle little ways of applying it in the telegrams he sends me before our games. He tells me the best players are made under pressure."

Tom, of course, had all the pressure he could ever dream water that might leak in.

No snorkel tube, no regulator, no air tanks, no special breathing precautions are necessary. Shoulder straps that slip off easily anchor the air hose line out of the way in back so a sudden jerk won't pull off the mask.

"Will this replace baseball?" someone needed Prentiss back. He'd tried out with the Detroit Tigers before World War II after being scouted in Chicago in high school. He'd played some ball on service teams in the Army but, like so many, he found the war had lasted too long. When he got home, his throwing arm wouldn't come back for him.

Back in Chicago, the White Sox let him work out with them, but finally he had to admit in spite of good hitting and running he'd better quit and try the boat business.

"At least out on the water, you can take it easy and have fun boating, swimming, diving all summer and winter, too, if you can swing a snow-time vacation south," Prentiss pointed out loyally.

"And in April you never think of spring training any more?"

Bill Prentiss reached out and pushed the potential customer's head under water, mask and all.

Burying A Myth

HERE HAS BEEN a myth abroad in the world that the Viet Cong — the native communists in South Vietnam — represented a popular revolutionary movement against oppression.

This myth has been the chief support of those Americans who condemn the use of our troops to help defend South Vietnam. We're killing people who are only trying to win a better life for the masses," goes this theme.

There are none so blind as those who will not see and many critics of our Vietnam policy apparently don't want to see. But if they do, they should have had their eyes opened by the result of the election in South Vietnam.

Despite every possible form of Viet Cong intimidation to keep voters from the polls, some 80 per cent of eligible citizens voted.

A jubilant Premier Nguyen Cao Ky (who would have been happy to get a 60 per cent turnout) called the results "the beginning of the end for the Communists."

This may be overly optimistic, but all who believe in freedom can be encouraged by the results.

The election demonstrated that the Viet Cong have much less power over the people of South Vietnam, than even the anti-Communists had believed. It further showed that there is a better chance to establish a stable government, with at least a semblance of democratic process, than most well-wishers had dared hope.

Throughout the long struggle in South Vietnam a curious fact has been noted by keen analysts but usually overlooked by most others — especially those inclined to accept the myth if the Viet Cong's following.

This fact is that no figure of any consequence has ever appeared as a spokesman for the Viet Cong.

North Vietnam's war against the French had Ho Chi Minh, Algeria's had Ben Bella, the Cuban revolt against Batista had Fidel Castro, the anti-British terrorists in Kenya had Jomo Kenyatta.

But who speaks for the Viet Cong? Apparently only Ho Chi Minh, in Hanoi.

No popular revolution survives long without a leader, a personality around whom the oppressed can rally. There is none in South Vietnam; another evidence of the lack of mass support for the Communists.

Ideology is actually a very small influence in the Viet Cong campaign, according to an exhaustive analysis of the guerrilla movement made by Douglas Pike, U. S. foreign service officer who spent six years in Saigon.

In a book soon to be published, he says the strength of the Viet Cong depends almost entirely on painstaking organization. And he contends the inspiration and plan for this network of subversion did not spring from South Vietnam but were transmitted from Hanoi. At least half of the 35,000 civilian unit leaders in the Viet Cong are North Vietnamese, Pike estimates.

Some thousands of regular North Vietnamese troops are employed in the fighting.

The struggle in South Vietnam is plainly a war of Communist aggression. The myth that it was anything else should have been buried under Sunday's outpouring of 4,000,000 ballots. — Tampa (Fla.) Tribune

Johnson Has Slipped in Popularity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political strategists are in dispute over how much ballot-box punch is packed by white reaction to Negro attempts to penetrate racially segregated neighborhoods.

Opponents of the civil rights bill cite two developments as prime evidence of a strong trend among voters against open housing. First, the Senate's defeat of an attempt to bring up the House-passed civil rights bill, and second, the victory of an open housing critic in Maryland's Democratic gubernatorial primary.

But supporters of a partial ban on housing discrimination called these unreliable indicators of voter sentiment nationwide.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said he did not believe white reaction would be of major significance on the national level, although he conceded it could affect some local races.

"I can't see the backlash as too much of a factor in November," Humphrey said in an interview. "I do not believe any candidate will campaign on the race issue. Republicans are as interested as Democrats in not being anti-Negro. Both political parties have high respect for civil rights."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., chief Senate sponsor of the civil rights bill, noted that more Democrats voted Wednesday to shut off debate than had followed a similar course when the 1964 civil rights bill was passed.

But Hart had no comment on suggestions that some Democrats may have done this in the belief that this year's bill is doomed and that they thus could vote to bring it up without facing the necessity of voting later on the controversial housing provision.

Forty-two Democrats and 12 Republicans supported a motion — which lacked the two-thirds majority it needed — to limit debate. Twenty-one Democrats and an equal number of Republicans voted again t the motion.

No Sweat Problem, Russia Says

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet spacemen don't have the sweat problem which hampered a U.S. astronaut last week, says Dr. Boris Yegorov, the Soviet cosmonaut who was the first doctor in space two years ago.

Yegorov is in Geneva attending the assembly of the European Group for International Space Development.

He said the problem doesn't exist for the Soviets "because the atmosphere and environment of the Soviet space cabins and space suits are absolutely normal whereas the Americans rely on artificial air mixture."

Yegorov said the U.S. cabins have a higher than normal proportion of oxygen. Thus, he contended, can cause heart and blood complications for the astronauts.

U.S. Refuses to Give Up on Peace Plan

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States refused today to give up on its latest peace proposals to North Viet Nam despite Hanoi's assertion that they were a hypocritical coverup for military escalation.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, who made the proposals in the U.N. General Assembly Thursday, told reporters he did not consider Hanoi's reaction "to be a considered reply. It is public propaganda."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, meanwhile, was to have a chance to follow up the proposals privately at a dinner tonight given by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. The talks between the two started Thursday when Gromyko was Rusk's dinner guest.

Neither side would say what they meant to discuss, but their subjects seemed likely to include Viet Nam, European security, disarmament, prevention of the spread of nuclear weapons and a treaty for peaceful exploration of outer space.

The meeting was to be the first since Gromyko denounced Goldberg's proposals in the assembly's general debate Friday.

Both Gromyko and Hanoi demanded Friday that the United States stop bombing North Viet Nam and withdraw its troops from South Viet Nam. Hanoi also suggested that the United States discuss a solution directly with the South Vietnamese rebels' National Liberation Front.

Goldberg told the assembly Thursday that, as a first step toward unconditional negotiations, the United States was "prepared to order a cessation of all bombing of North Viet Nam the moment" it got assurance that North Viet Nam would respond by reducing or ending its military activities in South Viet Nam.

He asked if North Viet Nam would respond to such a step and would agree to "a phased withdrawal" of all foreign troops from South Viet Nam, including American and North Vietnamese.

The proposals seemed in line with the first two points of U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant's three-point peace plan: cessation of the bombing of the north and scaling down of all military operations in the south.

Thant's third point is a willingness of all parties to negotiate with those "actually fighting" and Goldberg said the Viet Cong, as "a combatant force" should take part in the negotiations.

Hanoi's official Viet Nam News Agency denounced Goldberg's proposals and said they were designed "to cover up the U.S. scheme to expand and prolong its aggression in South Viet Nam" and "to get the United Nations to interfere in the Viet Nam issue."

The reaction from Hanoi was similar to that expressed by other Communist governments.

The Soviet newspaper Izvestia said the proposals were "false, demagogic and hypocritical," and the official Polish press agency said they were "a repetition of old U.S. proposals condemned in Hanoi as a maneuver to mask the cynical aggression against the Vietnamese nation."

Catholics Bring Fight Into Open

SIEDLICE, Poland (AP) — The Roman Catholic primate of Poland brought the Church's dispute with this country's Communist government into sharp focus over the weekend with a demand for equal rights for Catholics.

Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński addressed 20,000 worshippers in a pouring rain Sunday.

"We want respect, respect as citizens possessing equal rights. We desire respect for our faith. We want Catholic education for children — in the family and in the schools," he said.

"We want to have equal rights in the streets, equal rights in public life."

Western Lingo Next Week Will Have A Double Meaning Here

May Turn the Darkness Into Light

By JOHN NANCE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Night brings blessings to the Viet Cong, but American scientists are threatening to change that.

Their idea is to turn darkness into light.

If "batman helicopters" and "black spots" work out — enabling U.S. troops to see at night — the scientists' threat may become a reality.

Darkness in Viet Nam signals great changes in the war. It is an ally to the Viet Cong guerrillas who move and mass under the concealment of night as they never can in daytime.

The allied forces have perfected many night-fighting techniques. However, these have been inadequate in stopping guerrillas who know the terrain intimately and make the night their own.

Now science has been thrown full tilt into the fight. Hopes are pinned on such things as the Army's "Batman helicopter."

It still is in the test stage, but already Project Batman workers have spotted secret movements of the Viet Cong at midnight.

Heart of the system is an intensely sensitive television camera that can pick up images at night.

The camera is mounted on the front of a helicopter gunship. As the aircraft swirls along, the camera scans the ground, photographing by the light of stars and the moon. Crewmen inside the ship watch an eight-inch television screen.

The instant clandestine movement is spotted, the helicopter swoops down guns blazing.

Project Batman, in which helicopters have a large Batman insignia and workers wear a shoulder patch showing a bat flying out of a television screen, is just one of several ideas unveiled by a joint U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force research organization.

The Air Force, not to be outdone, is combat-testing what it calls "black spot."

This also uses the night-seeing television camera. It is mounted on a C123 cargo plane which carries flares, infrared and radar detectors plus an arsenal of machine guns, cannon and a bomb that bursts in air to spray hundreds of one-inch-long metal darts — splattering a target like a shotgun.

Both of these concepts are refinements of the Army's "firefly" or "lightning bug," a helicopter mounted with a powerful searchlight and escorted by armed helicopters.

The big beam sweeps over known Viet Cong routes on trails and rivers. When the enemy is spotted the gunships slash in.

Oddly, the big light does not make a good target. "Firefly" pilots say, to the contrary, the moving light seems to create an optical illusion in the darkness and is very difficult to shoot from the ground.

The major disadvantage of the "firefly" is that the light warns the Viet Cong to take cover.

Enemy forces with the proper equipment — as the North Vietnamese are reported to have — are able to detect such night vision devices as radar and infrared because they radiate electromagnetic energy.

Therefore, passive night vision devices that do not emit energy are of top importance. They detect and amplify energy — as the television camera intensifies starlight and moonlight.

LBJ Silent Even to Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plays it so close to the chest even the man he picked to be one heartbeat away from the presidency, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, is left looking unimpressed.

This isn't the way President John F. Kennedy treated his vice president, Lyndon B. Johnson, who has made a career of secret-keeping until he is ready for disclosures in his own good time, and for his own reasons.

The way Johnson dismissed a question about Humphrey this week creates a new question: Will he repeat his 1964 performance of leaving Humphrey hanging on the hook till the last minute?

In the 1964 election year, when the country had no vice president, Johnson kept an almost incredible silence about the man he wanted for his running mate. He gave the impression of agonizing over the decision.

Humphrey, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and others were publicly talked about as likely prospects. Johnson said nothing. Then, shortly before the Democratic convention opened in August, Johnson eliminated Kennedy.

He just simply announced no member of his Cabinet, which included Kennedy, would be considered. But Johnson gave no indication he favored Humphrey until the moment before he boarded a plane here for the convention.

Then he told newsmen his choice was Humphrey. And shortly afterwards at the convention he explained why he had reached this decision, describing Humphrey as the "best-equipped man in this nation to be president if anything happened to the president."

But it could hardly have taken Johnson all those months, right up to the last minute, to reach such an appraisal of Humphrey, who had worked with him in the Senate for years and had been his chief lieutenant there.

Since the election Humphrey has been the hardest-working vice president in history, not because of a special quality which makes him different from his predecessors but because Johnson has given him more work to do.

He has piled assignments and responsibilities on Humphrey. The vice president has been running up and down the countryside making speeches and is so loyal to Johnson that some of his liberal admirers have scoured on him.

But Robert F. Kennedy, now a U.S. senator from New York, has been running up and down making speeches and getting more enthusiastic receptions than Humphrey at a time when Johnson's standing in the public opinion polls has been falling.

Western Lingo used next week will mean one or two things. They have been to the flower show or the horse show. You see, both shows will be Rodeos this year. "A Rodeo of Flowers" needs some explanation, you say? We quite agree.

For the first time in several years the Hope Council of Garden Clubs is having a Fall Flower Show, and, since it is to be held during the Third District Livestock Show and Rodeo, a western theme was needed. Hence, the title, "A Rodeo of Flowers."

In the Horticulture Division you'll find such intriguing names as Flower Corral, Bronco Busters, Wagon Wheels, Cal Ropers, and Steer Wrestlers. Then, shades of Gene Autrey! wait 'til you see the Design Division.

The Advanced Arrangement Classes will include "Green Pastures," "Western Sunrise," "Trading Post," and "Barrel Race." In the Novice Arrangement Classes, "Harvest Moon" will be a crescent composition; "Camp Fires A-Burning" is to dance, an interpretive composition; and "The Last Round-up," appropriately enough, will use dried materials.

Whoever heard of a rodeo without something special for the youngsters? Well, the Hope Council of Garden Clubs never flower show the Junior Division Artistic Arrangements will be "Little Dogies," a miniature flower arrangement, and "Watering Trough," an arrangement in which water is a part.

Is your appetite sufficiently whetted for this western fare? Then, move on out to the Coliseum at Fair Park next Tuesday any time from 2 to 8:30 p.m. and take a gander at some real fine exhibits.

The judging will have been done earlier in the day, so the prize ribbons will be shown with the winners' Also, no entry will be allowed without a brand so the name of the exhibitor and that of her garden club will be displayed.

The Lilac, Rose, and Gardenia Garden Clubs are producing the show this year with their presidents, Mrs. J. S. Gibson, Mrs. Ned Ray Purdie, and Mrs. B. W. Edwards serving as co-chairmen of the event. The other two local garden clubs, Daffodil and Iris, will serve as hostesses during part of the afternoon showing, as well as the other three clubs.

Once you step inside the coliseum next Tuesday, September 27 you won't have to be spurred on to see "Rodeo of Flowers."

It promises to lasso the interest of everyone.

Objects Sighted Over Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Unidentified Flying Objects sighted recently in a Louisville neighborhood turned out to be little more than hot air.

A policeman found the UFOs — two cellophane suit bags — and the launch man, a 13-year-old junior high school pupil.

The youth said he filled the bags with hot air, sending them as high as 100 feet.

Malaysians Told of Communists

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia — (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak warned the Malaysian Parliament today that a "strong and entrenched Communist organization" in the Borneo State of Sarawak is preparing to stage an armed uprising with the backing of Red China.

Razak said a resolution signed in Peking by key members of the Sarawak Communist party this summer stated that "the line of struggle for national liberation of North Kalimantan (North Borneo) is to take up arms and fight resolutely until Malaysia is crushed."

He said four Communist jungle training camps, armed gangs, hideouts and illegal arms training had been reported in Sarawak. Two major attacks by armed Communists took place earlier this year.
